BECK REPLY TO HITLER FIRM 'NO'

Poles to Keep Danzig; Bar Dishonored Peace

WARSAW, May 5 (AP) — Poland's Col. Joseph Beck replied to Germany today with firm rejection of Adolf Hitler's demands for Danzig and a wide German right-of-way through the Polish Corridor, but left the door open for further "peaceful conversations."

Speaking before the Sejm (Parliament), and interrupted constantly by thunderous applause, the foreign minister declared that Pomorze (the Polish Corridor) and rights in the free city of Danzig belonged to Poland and that Poland would not give them up.

He called Germany's claims "one-sided demands" in which the element of reciprocity was lacking.

Poland is willing to negotiate, he declared, "only on the basis of "peaceful intentions" and "peaceful methods of action" and only as regards matters not directly affecting Polish sovereignty over the Corridor and her rights in Danzig.

A memorandum to this effect, Beck announced, was being delivered today to the German foreign office in Berlin.

ONLY WITH HONOR

Beck began his address at 11:15 a. m. (5:15 a. m., E. S. T.) and for 20 minutes delivered a calm, carefully-worded declaration of Polish policy which left no doubt as to the attitude of his country toward Germany's claims.

He concluded with emphasis on Poland's desire for peace, but brought Polish deputies to their feet in cheers with this declaration:

"We in Poland do not know the conception of peace at any price. There is only one thing in the life of men and nations and states which is without price—that is honor."

HIS 4 PRINCIPLES

Beck enumerated four principles which he insisted must be respected in negotiations with Germany:

1—Poland stands firmly by her rights and interests in overseas trade and maritime policy in Danzig;

2—Poland will not let itself be barred from the Baltic;

3—Pland will not permit her sovereignty to be restricted in the corridor—which Beck insisted on calling the "province of Pomorze"—although she has no desire to obstruct Germans in their communications with East Prussia;

4—Although the population of Danzig is predominantly German, its livelihood and prosperity depend upon Poland.

PENCEFUL INTENTIONS

After declaring that peaceful intentions and peaceful methods of action on the part of Poland were necessary for peaceful negotiations, Beck declared:

"If the government of the Reich is actually guided by these two conditions in its relations to our country, all conversations, naturally, respecting the principles

Britain Agrees To Russian Pact

LONDON, May 5 (AP)—A responsible source said tonight the British government had agreed to the formation of a flat triple military alliance with Soviet Russia and France.

The foreign affairs committee of the British cabinet approved a note to be dispatched to Britain's ambassador at Moscow, replying to Russian proposals for a security combination of the three powers.

British official quarters said that a plan had been devised which may get around Polish and Rumanian objections to receiving aid from the Soviet government.

Peace

Has Price--and High---But Without Price Is Nation's

Honor

"Peace is a valuable and desirable thing. Our generation, which bled in several wars, fully deserves a period of peace. However, peace, like almost all things of this world, has its price, high but definable. We in Poland do not know the conception of peace at any price. There is only one thing in the life of man, nations and states which is without price—that is honor."

—Col. Joseph Beck, concluding his speech before Poland's Parliament today.

NAVY WILL ESCORT ROYALTY

LONDON, May 5—Indicating that the British government considers international tension has diminished, the British cruiser Repulse will accompany King George VI and Queen Elizabeth part way across the Atlantic when they depart tomorrow for their tour of Canada and the United States, it was learned today.

Two cruisers will escort the liner on the entire voyage.

Queen Elizabeth

The King and Queen are scheduled to sail aboard the liner Empress of Australia. Original plans for them to make the ocean journey aboard the Repulse were cancelled because of the European tension and belief the Repulse might be needed in European waters.

The King got an early start on his last day in Buckingham Palace before sailing, breakfasting before 7 a. m. today.

He dealt with state papers during the morning, held a privy council and received Prime Minister Chamberlain at 11:30 a. m. (5:30 a. m. E. S. T.) in a farewell audience.

Queen Elizabeth, who has spent some 50 hours in recent months on dress fittings, was busy seeing that her dresser and other attendants got all the trunks aboard the special luggage cars which preceded the royal train to Portsmouth by 24 hours.

Last night the King and Queen were guests of United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy at a farewell dinner at the American embassy.

All nine Kennedy children—together for the first time since the ambassador came to London—met the King and Queen.

Huge Coal Strike Hits N.Y.; Subway Horde in Wild Jam

NEW YORK, May 5 (INS)—Six women fainted at Times square subway station today as curtailment of subway service, resulting from rapidly diminishing coal supplies, jammed the underground terminal with unprecedented crowds during the morning rush hour. The women were carried out of the terrific crush for medical treatment.

Police guards were established at all major transit points and extra platform men were assigned by the various subway systems as a 25 per cent reduction in passenger-carrying service necessitated by the coal shortage went into effect.

The soft coal industry, hindered since April 1, was further tied up today when 95,000 miners walked out on orders of John L. Lewis, head of the CIO United Mine Workers. This brought the total number of strikers to 453,000 men.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

The new walkout followed collapse of two months of negotiations.

Mayor LaGuardia approved the service cut here when informed by the City Transit Commission that the two privately owned lines, the Interborough Rapid Transit Com-

Boston will not be affected by the soft coal strike for several months at least, it was shown today by a check of the principal soft-coal using industries here.

The Boston Elevated, Boston Edison, the Consolidated Gas Company, and the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads all reported adequate supplies on hand.

New Smuggling Drive Hits Socialite Widow

NEW YORK, May 5—Society circles received another shock today when customs agents seized $26,000 worth of allegedly smuggled gowns, furs and jewels at the apartment of Mrs. James C. Ayer, leader of the fashionable Long Island North Shore colony.

Mrs. Ayer is the widow of Dr. James C. Ayer, descendant of an old Lowell, Mass., family, who died less than two months ago. He was graduated from Harvard in 1886 and was heir to the American Woolen Company fortune.

She is the former May Candee Hancock, member of an old Syracuse, N. Y., family and of the Society of Colonial Dames. She has a residence at Nassau, Bermuda, as well as in Manhattan and on Long Island.

HINT SERVANT GAVE TIP

Treasury Department officials reported the case is bigger than any recent smuggling case, including those in which Jack Benny and George Burns, radio and screen stars, and Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of a State Supreme Court justice, were involved.

The Benny-Burns-Lauer case resulted from a tip given customs agents by an angry maid in the Lauer home. Indications in the Ayer case are that it also leads back to a disgruntled servant.

Customs agents seized at Mrs. Ayer's home a long list of items ranging from diamond and platinum bracelets to ermine and mink capes, all claimed to have been smuggled in from Paris.

All were found in trunks the agents said.

Confiscated articles included a pair of diamond earrings, a black enamel and diamond cigarette case, a diamond and platinum bracelet with two diamond clips, an ermine cape, a caracul jacket, a silver fox cape, a mink jacket, dresses, lingerie and jewelry.

SMALL FEES BARED

In the information field with U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter, Mrs. Ayer is claimed to have brought in $7000 worth of dutiable merchandise in 1935 and to have paid only $100 custom fees.

In 1936 and 1937 she is alleged to have brought in $7000 worth of dutiable merchandise and to have paid no duties. In 1937 she paid between $40 0and $500 duties on $4950 worth of merchandise.

An affidavit filed with Cotter under the name "Mary Doe" asserted:

"The raiders will find certain goods in the apartment in E. 52d street. Furs will be found hidden elsewhere in the city. In a bedroom cabinet or desk at the apartment will be found a checkbook with stubs showing amounts paid in Paris.

"Bills and cancelled checks also will be found there."

The name of "Frieda," a maid, also figured in the papers.

AMELIA EARHART WIDOWER TO WED COAST SOCIALITE

George Palmer Putnam, widower of America's greatest aviatrix, Amelia Earhart, whose life story he recently published, is going to marry again.

MRS. JEAN-MARIE C. JAMES

Amelia Earhart Putnam was legally declared dead last January 5, a year and a half after she and her navigator were forced down approaching Howland island, in mid-Pacific, on her ill-fated attempt to fly around the world.

Putnam then declared he would never give up the search for her, and only recently was quoted as saying he believed his wife was still alive.

Cases are recorded, he pointed out then, of fliers and explorers who have been discovered years after all hope for them had been given up.

But a few months ago the courts decided that Miss Earhart, who began her sensation-studded flying career while she was a social worker and teacher in Boston, would never be found.

And today from Los Angeles came word that Putnam will marry Mrs. Jean-Marie Consigny James, Beverly Hills socialite, whose first husband was William Robert James, son of Federal Judge William James.

Amelia Earhart Putnam's mother, Mrs. Amy O. Earhart, now 74, recently moved to California from Medford.

The lost flier had many friends here and was for a time a key backer of one of the pioneer New England air lines, in addition to her work in the South End settlement section.

TAKE 186 OFF LINER

MANILA, May 5 (AP) — Shipwrecked 300 miles south of here, 186 passengers of the interisland liner Mayon were safely aboard another ship en route to Manila.

She Kicked, Too!

CHICAGO, May 4 (INS)—Arthur G. Zoerner was under court order here to give his wife, Bess, her own bed. Mrs. Zoerner won the decree on her appeal her husband kicked her out of bed and made her sleep on a davenport.

Judge Rudolph Desort ordered Zoerner either to provide his wife with a bed of her own or try the davenport himself.

MARY ELLERY CHANNING
Spurns Equerry's Marriage Offer

Bay State Deb, Duke's Equerry End Troth

With much mystery attending, the engagement of Mary Ellery Channing, Boston deb in the 1933-34 season, and David Scrymgeour-Wedderburn of th efamed Scots Guards has been cancelled, according to cables from London.

Over the Boston and Lexon teacups today, as a result, there was considerable excited speculation, but it was all as idle as it was excited because the cablegram hint that neither side will talk.

It was only last January that Mary's mother, Mrs. Hayden Channing of Valley Head, Lenox, announced the engagement of Mary to the Scot with the formidable name and it was only last month that mother and daughter sailed for England.

PLANNED TO WED ABROAD

Mary's sister, Kathleen, was to join them in London this month and the wedding bells were scheduled to ring in July as one of the highlights of the British social season.

There had been some discussion over the place where the marriage would be solemnized, Boston, Lenox and London all being mentioned, but London finally was decided upon.

In June the Channings plan to attend the London wedding of Mary's and Kathleen's cousin, Anne Schenck, to David Huxley—or at least they had planned to attend.

David Scrymgeour-Wedderburn, equerry to the Duke of Gloucester since 1937, is the son of the late Colonel Henry Scrymgeour-Wedderburn of Birkhill, Cupar-Fife, Scotland, where David's mother is still living.

ROMANCE IN ENGLAND

His brother, Henry James Scrymgeour-Wedderburn, is hereditary royal standard bearer and under-secretary of state for Scotland.

Mary is a granddaughter of Mrs. J. Frederick Schenck of New York and Lenox and of the late Dr. Walter Channing of Brookline.

She and David met in London shortly after Mary had completed her course at Weston Birt School, Gloucestershire, England, and the international romance kept society editors busy for some time.

This Rare Day (Oh, So Rare!) 1939's 'Hottest'

The spring's tong chill definitely broke today—for the one day, at least—with the sun coming out strong, and the temperature skipping up 17 degrees in three hours from 49 at 8 a. m. to 66 at 11, and at 1 p. m. went one more degree to 67.

The temperature was expected to reach at least 70 during the day, for the warmest day this year—one degree over April 22, the other warm day.

'4 Wives Plenty'--Barrymore

DES MOINES, May 5—Out here, where the tall corn is still a vegetable and not a quart, John Barrymore paid his respects today to Elaine Barrie in his best Omaha style and allowed four wives were enough for any man.

Yes, even a Barrymore.

The All-American husband fairly burned up the wires in a long-distance telephone conversation with the New York Journal and American and he was, the reporter said, in excellent voice, and even better spirits.

He had just left the train from Sioux City after traveling most of the night and he was informed, with some reluctance, the impression was abroad that he and Elaine yet might kiss and make up despite his separation suit.

HE DOESN'T BELIEVE HER

Barrymore said succinctly:

"She's a liar."

"That," he was asked, "is somewhat emphatic, isn't it?"

This wasn't exactly charitable, nor was there any belief of its truth, for wasn't Elaine the Maid of Manhattan?

Barrymore snorted. He said something that sounded faintly like a razzberry and went on firmly and deliberately:

"I am suing Miss Barrie and she is going to stay sued, no matter what she says. When I sue, I sue."

SEVEN-SYLLABLE GROUNDS

There certainly was no doubt of that, Mr. Barrymore; no doubt, whatever. But the lawyers had been a bit shy in disclosing the grounds for the separation suit.

"Could it be incompatibility?" he was asked.

He paused in what seemed to be reflection.

"Ha!" he exclaimed. "A good seven syllable word. Excellent grounds."

He was asked then about his suit for an accounting of $300,000 from Elaine. Did he know where the money was?

"That, my dear fellow," came the dulcet Barrymore tones, "is what I am trying to find out."

BARRYMORE'S LIMIT

Did he know if Miss Barrie now was planning suit for divorce? It seemed he didn't—and didn't particularly care, either.

"And," he was asked, "is there any one else who would interest you in the meanwhile?"

"No!" Mr. Barrymore exploded. "Haven't I had four wives?"

"That, then, is your limit?"

"It is not only my limit. It is sufficient. To be statistical, it is enough for any man."

His three previous wives, to keep the record clear, were the former Katherine Harris, the former Blanche Oelrichs (Michael Strange), and Dolores Costello.

BUS AS LADDER REACHES AGED IN SHARON FIRE

SHARON, May 5—One woman was seriously burned, and only dramatic rescues by firemen and a quick-thinking bus driver, who used his vehicle for a safety ladder, saved several other old people, one of them a helpless old woman, when fire swept a private home for the aged here today.

The blaze started from a front-room oil stove and spread rapidly through the two lower floors as residents, all above 70 years, struggled to make their escape from flames and choking smoke.

Mrs. Bruno Lehmbecker, owner of the home, was seriously burned on the face and head after escaping a flame trap on the third floor, where she had gone to look for inmates.

Neighbors fought their way through the fire to the aid of Mrs. Julia Sullivan, 70, who was ill in bed, and Mr. and Mrs. James Cox, each over 70, but were trapped and had to carry them to a porch roof.

A bus driver, taking in the dangers of the situation, backed his bus up to the roof and helped take the rescued and rescuers to safety.

Firemen carried out George Vignal, 80; John A. Curran, 89, and Laurence Howe, 82. All were suffering from smoke inhalation, but none required hospital treatment.

Explains How She Wed Two

Details of her elopement to Seabrook, N. H., which led to her arrest and conviction on polygamy charges, were recited in Suffolk probate court today by Mrs. Elizabeth Herman, 26, now of Dana street, Cambridge.

The striking brunette, whose appeal from an indefinite sentence at Sherborn reformatory is now pending, was the only witness at a hearing on annulment proceedings brought by her second husband, Kenneth Brenner, former singer in a Washington street cafe.

She was still living with Wilbur Herman of Somerville in December, 1937, when she met Brenner while he was singing in the cafe, she testified before Judge Frederick J. Dillon.

"I didn't know I got married (to Brenner) until the following day. We had been drinking," Mrs. Herman testified.

"Did he know you were already married?" she was asked.

"I hadn't told him," was her reply.

When questioned about her married life with Brenner, she denied they had lived together, although he claimed they lived in a Dudley street, Roxbury, apartment.

"As a matter of fact he said he would settle for $2000 if I dropped it," she told the court.

Judge Dillon continued the hearing until next Friday.

Declared by police to have been only a "dupe" for her husband in passing worthless checks, Mrs. Ethel M. Murphy, 33-year-old Lynn blonde, was let off today in municipal court with a suspended sentence to Sherborn Reformatory for Women.

Judge Elijah Adlow placed her on probation until November 1.

A search is still being conducted for her husband, Bennett Murphy, former labor leader and one of four heirs to a $500,000 trust fund left by his father, wealthy Lynn shoe manufacturer.

Most of the worthless checks, according to police, were drawn by Murphy in the name of James E. Gibbons, trustee of the estate.

STEELES WORK FOR NEGRO AID

A Harvard-bred young Negro scholar and his pretty white wife were working shoulder to shoulder today to advance the Armstrong-Hemenway Foundation in Rutland square, South End, incorporated only a few hours ago.

He is Julian D. Steele, an anti-segregationist. She was Mary Bradley Dawes, cousin of former Vice President Charles G. Dawes.

The same group of society women and civic workers that defended the inter-racial marriage a year ago was responsible for the selection of Steele as executive director of the foundation. She will assist him.

The aims of the Armstrong-Hemenway Foundation, as announced yesterday by the directors, are exactly in line with the couple's ideals.

"The foundation," said the official announcement, "is a non-profit, interracial co-operative enterprise, organized to promote the development of co-operatives, better housing, planned recreation and a committee on Negro labor to assist in adjusting the Negro in the ranks of labor. It's emphasis is on self-help without regard to race, color or creed. The foundation will operate its center at No. 42 Rutland sq., Boston, where committee and group meetings will be held."

Pair 'Improve Minds' While Waiting Chair

Neither man expressed much emotion over the reprieve.

Move for Love Balm Hearing On Letters He 'Can't Recall'

Attorneys and Middlesex court officials moved today to set an early hearing date for arguments in the $100,000 heart balm suit brought by blonde, petite Elinor Jordan, 26, of Medford, against Stanley E. O'Brien, 44, prominent Nova Scotia merchant.

For more than a year since the action was brought interrogatories and answers have been filed, marked by a series of 41 sizzling love notes which the Medford girl claims were written by O'Brien.

Although the court docket is cluttered with many impending cases, both sides expected to argue motions before the end of this month.

CLAIMS BLONDE DODGES

Counsel for O'Brien charges that Miss Jordan refuses to reply to interrogatories, while O'Brien's answers to queries as to whether he penned notes in which Miss Jordan is called "Angel," "Darling," "True Blue Wife," and "Precious," followed an unchanging formula:

"At present I cannot say," or "I cannot recall."

O'Brien is unable to recall asking Elinor to marry him and to an interrogatory filed by the girl, asking if O'Brien is now married, the Yarmouth merchant answered:

"I am advised this is immaterial and irrelevant."

More interrogatories, filed by Miss Jordan, disclosed today that the plaintiff has asked:

"Did you before her relatives ask Elinor K. Jordan to marry you?" and the reply was: "Not that I can recall."

"Did you ask the mother of Elinor K. Jordan if she had any objections to your marriage to her daughter?" he was also asked, and replied: "No."

When the case goes to trial it will be one of the last of the breach of promise actions in Massachusetts, such cases having been banned by law shortly after it was filed in June of 1938.

The letters, in which the pet name "Mike" is frequently applied to the person to whom they were addressed, referred frequently to the writer's "little wife to be."

Some were more ardent than others, but all expressed love and affection.

"My darling little bunch of everything that is good, sweet, pure, lovable, adorable and just perfect in every little detail," was one salutation. "How is my precious little wife today?" another opened.

Miss Jordan is represented by Atty. Richard J. Cotter of 84 State st., and O'Brien by Atty. Roscoe Walsworth of 100 Milk st. The suit has been pending for a year, and action is now awaited on a motion to have the evidence heard by an auditor.

Excerpts from some of the letters follow:

GLAD TO HEAR VOICE

"November 29, 1936.

"My darling little bunch of everything that is good, sweet, pure, lovable, adorable, and just perfect in every little detail. Now how in that for a salutation. And I believe deep in my heart and soul that that is right and true, also in my estimation, you are the only little girl who I

MEN'S CLOTHING—WHITE'S MEZZANINE

SPELLMAN TO ANOINT 2 CLASSES

Before leaving to take up his new post as head of the New York archdiocese, Archbishop Francis J. Spellman will make two more public appearances here, it was announced today.

On May 14, at 3 p. m., he will confirm a large class of boys and girls in his own parish, that of the Sacred Heart Church in Newton.

On May 21 he will give first holy communion to another group of younger children of his parish.

The following day—the 22d—the new archbishop will motor to New York to be met at the Massachusetts-New York state line by a committee of 25 secular and lay officials.

They will be joined by others unofficially in the procession, and will then motor to the arch-episcopal residence in Madison avenue, New York city.

There the archbishop-elect will present his documents to Bishop Stephen J. Donohue, diocesan administrator since the death of Cardinal Hayes, Bishop Spellman's predecessor.

On Tuesday morning, May 23, the formal installation ceremonies will be held at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Fifth ave.

There will be a procession of students of Cathedral College and St. Joseph's Seminary, teaching brothers, secular priests and monsignors. The priests attending the ceremony will take the oath of obedience before the new archbishop and those absent will be given an opportunity to make the vow during various retreats next month. After the installation a luncheon will be served diocesan officials at the Waldorf Astoria.

3 'Thrill Girls' Held in Break

It wasn't so thrilling today when three girls who said they had broken into a Mattapan house recently "for a thrill" were arraigned in Dorchester court, two in juvenile session and one in the regular.

The two juveniles, one 15 and one 16, had their cases continued to next Tuesday.

Doris A. Kidney, 17, of Itasca street, Mattapan, pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering. Her case was continued to May 25.

The thrill-seeking trio were arrested soon after Bernard Wolson of Savannah avenue, Mattapan, reported he had surprised a girl ransacking a bureau in his home.

The girl leaped out a bedroom window and fled.

$10,000 Fire Loss In Quincy Store

By the time firemen arrived in response to an automatic alarm, the fire had burned itself out, but the sprinkler system had flooded stock counters and racks on the first floor and in the basement.

$1000 TAXI KISS

HOUSTON, Tex., May 5 (AP)—A jury awarded Mrs. Eugenia Horlock of Dallas $1000 against a taxicab company for a kiss she said a driver tried to steal from her while she was his passenger.

GIRL SHOT; DIES IN ARMS OF BOY FRIEND

WILDWOOD, N. J., May 5 (INS)—Still hysterical from the shock of watching his fiancee die in his arms after she had been accidentally shot, according to his explanation, William Fath, 24, was held in $5000 bail today on a technical charge of manslaughter.

The girl, Marion Todd, 21, was accidentally shot while they were practicing target shooting at tin cans and other objects along the beach with a rifle he bought a month ago at her suggestion, Fath was quoted by police as explaining.

They were walking from a stump where they had re-loaded the rifle when it was accidentally discharged, police were told by Fath, whose father is president of the Wildwood board of education. Fath said he was carrying the gun, according to police.

Fath related he tried to pick up the girl and carry her to his car but then decided to leave her on the beach and drive for help at the police station.

RECALL POLICE IN OIL STRIKE

Everett police were withdrawn from private strike duty today, following the disclosure that many officers earned $6 a day for special patrol work in the employ of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company, while on time off.

The revelation was made by Police Chief George O. Kenney to the Everett city council during its investigation of the Tuesday strike riot near the oil concern's plant.

Permitting officers to perform such special duty outside of their regulars hours of work was according to "usual police practice," the chief said.

Not only Everett, but all city police departments furnish officers to theaters, dance halls, factories, and other places provided their services are paid for by those persons hiring them," Chief Kenney said.

GUARD DISTRICT

In order to maintain strict neutrality the strike zone was still guarded today by Metropolitan police in addition to Everett officers.

Members of the state arbitration board and representatives of the National Maritime CIO Union and the oil companies sought to preserve "truce" today while settlement negotiations proceeded in New York city which may soon end the seamen's dispute.

Strikers, permitted to resume picketing activities with armbands to designate them as pickets, won a signal victory in their battle when Mayor Frank E. Lewis of Everett, ordered Jacob Lichter, known as "Beacon Jack," to close the employment agency from which strikers charged, strike-breakers were recruited in violation of the law.

GET "DEATH" THREAT

Two letters, containing "death threats" to Capt. Pietro Fiorentino and Sergeant Felix Dumas, active in strike detail work of Everett police, were turned over to handwriting experts for examination. The letters, postmarked "Boston," stated "You are Doomed." They were unsigned.

'Smart Girl' Weds Westrope

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, May 5 (INS)—Pretty, blonde, Nan Grey, Deanna Durbin's movie sister in both the "Three Smart Girls" comedies, today was the bride of Jackie Westrope, well known jockey.

The marriage ceremony, performed in Phoenix (Ariz.) by the Reverend Merrill of the First Methodist Church, quelled the many rumors of the past year that Nan was the secret bride of the popular jockey.

Jackie Westrope

The first tip that any one of us had that the prospective bride and bridegroom were in Phoenix came when they applied for a marriage license under Nan's real name, Eschal Miller.

Accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Miller, the bride's mother, William Gillespie, the bridegroom's business manager, and Josephine Camm, Nan's stand-in at Universal, the wedding party motored to Arizona for the ceremony.

The bride, one of the best known of the younger screen actresses, wore a powder blue afternoon dress without the conventional veil and a corsage of orchids. Miss Camm, her maid of honor, wore an informal summer dress.

Her romance with the diminutive jockey started shortly after he brought home five winners at Santa Anita in one day.

Gray Says Public Aid Curbs Private Charity

Francis C. Gray, former chairman of the Boston School Committee, and head of the drive for the Hospital Community Fund, told Boston in his opening official speech that the public must make a choice between private philanthropy and federal or state care of the sick and needy. Gray is the [illegible] of the Fiduciary Trust Company.

could handle it I would, or would care to.

"Oh, angel, or better still, my little wife-to-be very soon, I was very glad to hear your voice last night.

"I had your letter in my pocket that I was waiting to read after I returned but I just felt that I had to talk to you on Thanksgiving night for I am truly more thankful for you than anything else in this whole world.

"Now, do you feel the same way, Darling?

"Well dear, be a good sweet darling, and always remember you belong to me. So no fear ever. "STAN."

ALWAYS LOOK PERFECT

"January 27, 1937.

"My darling little girl:

"Bless your sweet old heart. You were so sweet last night to rid me back. God bless you Darling. I do love you more today than ever. You are not just one hundred per cent, you far exceed that amount, you are one hundred per cent more or above perfect.

"Now angel, if you only knew how much I enjoyed this week-end with you. I hate to go back to work and worry again, as, Mike when I am with you. I feel that I have the world.

"So what else matters. Well, darling, do not forget to write real often. All my love.

"STAN."

"Well, Elinor, darling.

"Two certainly made me happy last night, I think a great deal more so than you are aware. You looked so charming today and especially tonight. Now we belong to each other and I feel so lucky to have such a wonderful partner to go through life with, Elinor, I simply could not live without you now. All my love to Elinor, the sweetest girl in all the world.

"STAN."

"My darling little wife-to-be, very, very soon, I hope: I just left you and I came up to my room but I simply couldn't go to sleep without first telling you how very much you mean to me and how much I truly love and appreciate your 100 per cent love and respect which I feel and know that I have tonight, 100 per cent and always. As from this night on, I intend to do everything to keep and make you a happy wife.

"Elinor, you looked so sweet tonight, today, but especially tonight. I do love the two furs and you did look adorable. God bless you, darling of my heart.

"Who wouldn't be proud of a sweet angel name as you are, darling? Oh, darling, I do love you so very, very much. Precious lamb, I couldn't go to sleep without telling you how much I do appreciate you, angel of my heart. God bless you always and forever, darling. Oh, precious lamb.

"Well, it is now 1 o'clock so I must surely go to sleep. All my love.

"Your little Stan who wants to mean everything in this world to you."

WALK 25 MILES

In a letter dated April 30, 1937:

"Well, my little treasure from heaven—now how is that for a salutation? I just wonder if you can beat it, darling. Wouldn't I deeply love seeing you tonight. Oh, darling, I enjoyed you so very much this last trip. When I was looking into that darling little face, with two eyes, two ears, nose, mouth, teeth and lips of velvet, saturated with honey. And then I say: 'Wink one eye,' and she has to wink both! Bless her!

"I do wonder who would like to see you tonight, darling. God bless you.

"I would walk 25 miles to see you tonight, darling, in my bare feet if necessary, precious.

"You are such a blessed comfort in every way, darling. I do hope to come up about—not later than two weeks from tonight.

"Bless your sweet old heart. Now, dear, I miss your little arms. Please send me down those lips and arms, and I will bring them back when I come up. God bless you.

"All my love, Stan . . . XXX

"My little darling . . . I get so lonesome for you, dear.

"Don't you dare to treat me the way you did when I came into your store that morning. Imagine, you hadn't seen me for a month, and just 'Hello,' instead of coming over and putting your arms around my neck, and saying: 'Hello, darling, gee! I'm glad to see you!' and giving me a kiss that would last for ten minutes. ADORABLE, WONDERFUL.

Just see how that would have thrilled Stan. Don't forget next time, will you."

"Last evening all night I could not sleep as I thought about you for a couple of hours. And, darling, I thought the most beautiful things about you, because you are beautiful, adorable and wonderful. In fact, I couldn't think of adjectives enough to express how beautiful you are, and how much I love and appreciate you.

"Precious lamb, wouldn't I love to curl up in those arms right now and feel those lips real close to mine—oh, darling, I guess I had better stop or be on that last tonight.

"Oh, dear, I want to be with you so much, you are such a darling. Now I do hope you enjoy this note, dear. Let me know, sure pop.

"All my love to my darling.

"Stan . . . "

"April 23, 1937.

"My little Darling:

"Wouldn't I love to curl up in your arms this afternoon and just look into those blessed eyes and talk to you and tell you how much I adore you, Eleanor. Oh, yes, and kiss those blessed lips, and hug you real tight. I have missed you so very much. Gee, but I would love to see you this afternoon. Oh, boy, but you would get hugged more than you ever did before. I am afraid I would not let you leave me at all. Bless your sweet old heart. Would you love to be enfolded in Stan's arms? Well, darling, until Saturday afternoon. All my love.

"STAN."

"MY LITTLE MIKE

April 27, 1937.

"Well, my little darling.

"How are you today. I got your letter this morning and it was very sweet but very short. Well, darling, I was so disappointed for not being able to get away last Friday night as I wanted to see you so badly. I just ached all over. I want to see my little Mike and kiss those blessed lips and hug you so close that you will yell right out loud with joy. Bless you.

"Today is the first real fine day we have had. It is beautiful out. I wish, I wish, I wish, I guess I do not dare to put my wish on paper. You darling. You are so sweet, Mike you always look so cute. Now darling do not worry about your business.

"You will have poor days and good days. I think you are a real business woman and your judgment is real good. Now, darling, I hope and pray to be able to see you Saturday. With all my love, darling. "Your STANNNN"

"March 2, 1937

"My dear: Oh, darling, you do not know how I appreciate you, Elinor. I'll bet you look very sweet in your black dress. You always look perfect, hair, feet, nose, lips, teeth, fingers, and all over you. You are my ideal, and to be that you must realize you are about perfect.

"Be good, darling, keep happy I think of you more lately than ever. You are so sweet to me, Mike. God bless you. All my love.

WOOS WITH BOMB, BOTH DIE

I went up to the car," Windrom said, "and the man reached in the jacket and pulled out a gun. I dropped down just as he shot through the glas. He then shot the woman through the head and killed himself."

POLAND REJECTS HITLER'S DEMANDS

which I have enumerated are possible," declared Beck.

If such conversations materialize the Polish government will, according to its custom, regard the problem objectively, with a view to experiences of recent times, but without refusing its best will."

GERMANS GIVEN RIGHTS

[illegible] History of German [illegible] including the [illegible] just denounced by Hitler, gave specific attention to the question of Danzig and [illegible] the Polish corridor)), in response to German demands.

"[illegible] Danzig be declared [illegible] has been a cor[illegible]

"Seeking reasonable and conciliatory solutions, we have purposely not endeavored to exact any influence on the free national, ideological and cultural developments of the German majority in the free city," he said.

"I shall not extend my address by quoting examples. They are sufficiently well known to all those who have been concerned in any way with the matter. But when, after repeated statements of German statesmen, who respected our views and expressed the opinion that 'this provincial town will not be the object of a conflict between Poland and Germany'—I hear a demand for the annexation of Danzig to the Reich, when I get no reply to our proposals of March 26 of a common guarantee of the existence and rights of the free city and I learn subsequently that it has been regarded as a refusal of negotiations—I have to ask myself what is the real aim of it all?

BAR POLES FROM BALTIC

"Is it the freedom of the German population of Danzig, which is not menaced, or matters of prestige—or is it a matter of barring Poland from the Baltic, from which Poland will not let herself be barred?"

As regards the Corridor which Beck described as "ancient Polish land, with an insignificant per cent of German colonists," he said:

"We have given to the German Reich all railway facilities; we have allowed its citizens to travel without customs or passport formalities from the Reich to East Prussia. We have suggested the extension of these facilities to road transport. And again the question appears—what is the real aim of it all?"

Again reverting to his firm attitude as regards Poland's territorial integrity, Beck declared:

"We have no reason to obstruct the German citizens in their communication with their eastern province. But we have on the other hand no grounds whatever for restricting our sovereignty on our own territory.

HITLER DEMANDS ONE-SIDED

"In the first and the second instance, that is in the matter of the future of Danzig and of the communications from Pomerze, it is still a case of one-sided concessions, which the government of the Reich seems to be demanding from us.

"A self respecting nation does not make one-sided concessions. Where is the reciprocity? It looks rather vague in the German proposals."

[illegible] to the [illegible] of Danzig and the corridor, Beck declared:

"In his speech the Chancellor of the Reich proposes as a concession on his part the recognition and definite acceptance of the existing frontier between Poland and Germany.

"I have to state that it would have been a recognition of our property, indisputably de jure and de facto, so that this proposal also cannot alter my point that the German claims with regard to Danzig and the motor road remain one-sided demands."

THAT VIOLATED PACT

[illegible] Germany's denunciation of the Polish-German non-aggression pact which he described as [illegible] Between two great nations," Beck said this was "not an insignificant matter," and added:

"However, every treaty is worth as much as the consequences which follow it. And if the policy and conduct of the partner diverges from the principles of the pact, we have no reason for mourning its slackening or dissolution."

Recounting [illegible] relations, Beck declared:

"It was possible to establish rapidly the principles of Polish and British collaboration, first of all because we made it clear to each other that our intentions of both the governments are [illegible] cordant on basic European problems; certainly neither Great Britain nor Poland has any aggressive intentions whatever, least they are determined in the defense of certain basic principles of conduct in international life."

The importance attached to Beck's reply was indicated by the arrangements made to broadcast it throughout Europe except in Germany, where it was banned—and the United States.

Tense as the situation was, however [illegible] of the Sejm did not match in dramatics last Friday's session of the German Reichstag when Hitler announced his demands.

The Polish public had planned to go about its work in about its usual manner, whereas all [illegible] in Germany were stopped a week ago for the Reichstag address.

Chungking Raided For Third Time

HONGKONG, May 5 (AP)—Dispatches received by the private wireless station of a Chinese bank here said that Japanese warplanes made a devastating raid on Chungking today. This third attack on the Chinese provisional capital in three days.

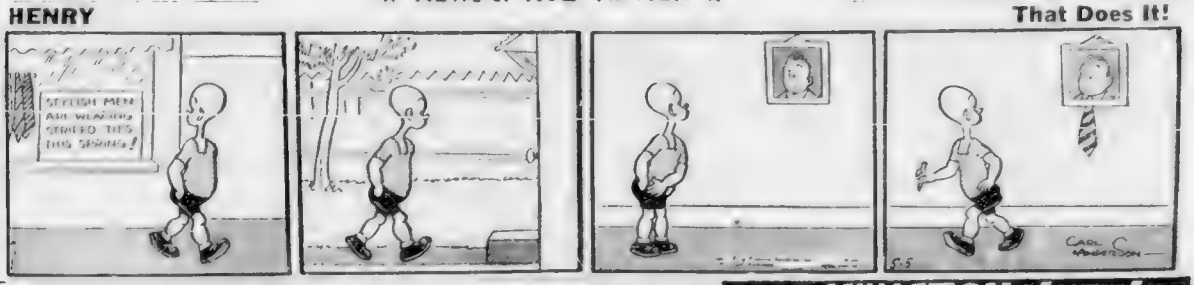
HENRY



WIFE HELD IN TWO POISON DEATHS

HOWARD BEE, May 5 (INS)—Mrs. Anna Louise Sullivan, 52, was held under $5,000 bail today for trial here after pleading guilty to the fatal poisoning of her second husband and the son of her third husband.

Mrs. Sullivan also was charged with the attempted poisoning of her third husband and his 11-year-old daughter, Theresa.

District Attorney Herbert Steffes said the middle-aged "Borgia had confessed the crimes.

Those who succumbed to pinches of paris green which, police said, Mrs. Sullivan dropped into their soup were Fred Richards, 34, and James Sullivan, 14. Manuel Sullivan, 60, and the girl were seriously ill from the poisons at a hospital tonight.

Sullivan, the present husband, is a city parks employe.

Detectives said Mrs. Sullivan told them she killed Richards, a war veteran, because he was a terrible man whom she could never leave. She killed [illegible] because he can't be blamed for the sins of his father.

Sullivan, she said, tried to [illegible] when a pet bird [illegible] handle to her, but she said [illegible] a motive for her attempt on the [illegible] daughter.

Authorities apparently [illegible] she is a genius.

Mrs. Sullivan was arrested [illegible] night when an autopsy on the [illegible] tons of young Sullivan revealed poison. The autopsy [illegible] Apr. 28.

DUCE ADDS MILLIONS FOR WAR

"A quick war has been [illegible] upon as the type of war which Fascist Italy in case of armed conflict would desire to engage in her eventual enemies," the War Ministry's budget report said.

"This is precisely the type of war which corresponds with our fighting and dynamic spirit and which by the utilization of instruments in the aggressive spirit of the men by the newest revolutions of increased power like in tempests of fire and the lightning rapidity of assault would lead to the defeats of others."

SETTLEMENT WORKERS SHOW SKILL AT EXHIBIT

The boys were picked by Instructor H. Henry Clark from the 150 students who attend the Settlement's science classes, taught by volunteers from M. I. T. and Harvard.

They will be followed by other detachments of a dozen each, until 50 Boston boys have spent a week at the Fair as guests of the company.

During the day the boys spend four hours showing the thousands of World's Fair visitors the complicated inner workings of the Westinghouse exhibit, which contains features illustrating virtually every phase of life in "the world of tomorrow."

The rest of the time they are free to wander through the Fair grounds and see for themselves all the treasures of the earth as set forth on the filled-in flatlands of Flushing in the shadow of the [illegible] and the Trylon.

Instructor Clark, having the opportunity given the boys, expressed regret that all the members of his classes could not go.

Nye Exposes British War Plans for U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (INS)—Described by Senator Nye (R.) of North Dakota as "brazen" and "amazing," extracts from a book written by an English author telling of propaganda usable to draw the United States into "the next war" has been placed in the Congressional Record.

The book is "Propaganda in the Next War," written by Sidney Rogerson.

Senator Nye said he could not identify the writer, but that the book was one of a series under the general title "The Next War," edited by Capt. B.H. Liddell Hart, [illegible] military authority.

Senator Nye declared that the book, placed in circulation last fall, is now being withdrawn from circulation and that the total was limited to be the only copy extant in the United States, in a university library.

"We find this writer and author," Nye told the Senate, "pointing out how large a part in world consideration the word 'democracy' is going to play in the next war, how readily it lends itself to a play which will invite the prejudices of a people who may not stop to analyse what is being done under the name and in the name of 'democracy.'"

Citing that the author stated that atrocity propaganda would be less effective with neutrals in the next war, Nye quoted from his article as saying:

"It will behoove us to manufacture what we can and press it everywhere we can—a task of making bricks without straw, at which we showed ourselves to excel in the last war."

[illegible] making bricks without straw" in America the writer recommended:

Capitalize "American sympathy for the oppressed."

That Japan be drawn into the war "to arouse American hostility."

Nye quoted the author as admitting that for some time the issue as to which side the United States would take in the World War was in doubt, but the final result, "a credit to our propaganda."

CONGRESS HONORS HEARST

(Special to Boston Evening American)

WASHINGTON D C May 5 A birthday interview with William Randolph Hearst by Damon Runyon on the subject of Americanism published in the Hearst newspapers last Sunday was placed in the Congressional Record today by unanimous consent of the United States Senate

In making the motion to reprint the interview in full in the official record of Congress, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas paid a tribute to Mr. Hearst's long record of patriotic services

PRAISES MR. HEARST

Senator Capper's introductory remarks follow

"I ask unanimous consent to have published in the record an interview with Mr. William Randolph Hearst on the subject of Americanism published April 30 under the heading: Let America Set a World Example

"The interview is by the well-known writer, Damon Runyon It gives in splendid form an historic resume of the many patriotic services rendered over a long period of years by the distinguished publisher."

In the interview Mr. Hearst enunciated what he believes to be the surest policy for the United States to follow in the face of recurring international crises. He said in part

"I favor an isolation policy as far as adhering to American principles and keeping out of foreign wars is concerned. We have never been completely isolated. We have traded with all the world

WELCOME FRIENDS

"We welcome the friendship of all the world. We have had the admiration and respect of all the world.

"We want the benefits of those friendly contacts, but if anyone means that we should take part in the prejudices and persecutions of Europe and in the antiquated theories of despotic government—that we should seek the level of their wage standards and industrial standards—I say no, let's maintain a policy of isolation as far as those matters are concerned

"Let's keep out of international conflicts Let's keep out of class, racial and religious conflicts Let's maintain the liberty, and tolerance and fraternity and opportunity which have made us a unique and isolated example of human progress

URGES PEACE FOR ALL

"In other words, let the less happy, less peaceful, less successful nations of the world follow our example, and let us not follow theirs

'In the short period of America's existence we have accumulated more than half the wealth of the world and almost 100 per cent of the peace and happiness of the world

"What do we envy those foreign nations for? Their wars? Their depression? Their poverty? Their persecutions? Their concentration camps and their bloody purges'

'Why should we adopt their theories and their policies and why participate in their destructive conflict? That is the whole theory of the situation."

City Club Campaign To Close With Dance

More than 400 Boston City Club members and guests are planning to attend the "victory dinner dance" which will mark the end of the club loyalty campaign tomorrow evening in the club auditorium, Somerset st. It is expected the total pledges of new members from the present membership will reach 1000

In addition to celebrating the 53rd anniversary of the City Club's founding the party will be used to interest the club members in the new roof garden which the club [illegible]

GIVES UP IN STOCK THEFT

Sought mainly since 1936, Allen E. Gill, 42, of Union street, Watertown, former cashier for the defunct R. J. Steger, Inc., Post Office square, walked into Boston police headquarters today.

Gill surrendered to Lieutenant Detective Daniel Goode, who faced a warrant charging him with larceny by checks and bonds from the firm valued at $[illegible].

Pleading guilty to [illegible] Gill was sentenced by Judge [illegible] to serve not less than 2½ nor more than 3 years in the House of Correction.

Gill, who is married and has a child, was employed by the Steger firm for 15 years. He was graduated from Boston University School of Law in 1926 and was admitted to the bar in 1927. He practiced law in Boston for a short time and then went into business with his father, who is in the real estate business in Watertown.

Gill's father, Frank H. Gill, is a former member of the Watertown School Committee and a former Democratic candidate for Mayor of Watertown.

Gill is said to have spent some time in the neighborhood of the old home of Pinchbeck, N. H.

Commercial accounts do not draw interest, he explained to day and since the money can not be increased before the date it becomes due I believe the executors will co-operate with the Commonwealth.

Ickes Baby to Arrive in Fall; Calls it 'Another New Dealer'

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Ickes, 43-year-old wife of the secretary of the Interior, said today that he expected "another New Dealer" to arrive in the Ickes family in September.

She firmly confirmed her husband's remark to reporters earlier in the day that he had "hopes" of becoming a father.

Mrs. Ickes, the former Jane Dahlquist of Milwaukee, a relative of John Dahlquist, minister to Ireland, Secretary Ickes, 64-year-old widower of Anna Wilmarth, were married in Chicago in May of last year.

WHO'S GOING [illegible] President? . . . We're [illegible] Hotel's Wedgwood Room [illegible] Friday evening [illegible] Boston debutante [illegible] Lawrence of Jamaica Plain [illegible] Monday . . . Tomorrow [illegible] Mrs. E. H. [illegible] Pinckney of Sea Haven, Connecticut.

The Eastern dancing [illegible] of the leagues in New England [illegible] as well as those in Toronto, Montreal and Halifax are [illegible] coming dancing meetings [illegible] these various cities will keep [illegible] rowing pretty busy.

There is also a league rule that you cannot hold two executive positions at one time, which [illegible] assists the presidency of the Boston [illegible] . . . And to fill this vacancy will be [illegible] two unpaid spectres of timid [illegible] . . . [illegible] of Zero Mariette trough street, for the [illegible] office, combined in the inner sanctum [illegible] . . .

We don't want to compete with [illegible] of public opinion, but we're waiting [illegible] what the election returns are made public next Tuesday. [illegible] will be the league's new proxy . . . Stay [illegible] so as a proxy has a right to vote.

But there are several other [illegible] Dorothy Backmann and Ann [illegible] are very upset about it. . . Any one of them [illegible] rather favors working at the league and [illegible] associated with the league. So would make [illegible] Incidentally, both Mrs. Parker and [illegible] were to have represented the Boston [illegible] Charlestone, were unable to [illegible] Mrs. Charles L. J. Nute [illegible] Boston down in Memphis this week . . . [illegible] annual meeting here on Tuesday.

MRS. CHAUNCEY KEEP HUTCHINS (Polly Wardwell) who has arrived from Chicago for the wedding of her sister, Ann, next week.

Vincent Club Elections, Too

WHAT WITH all the November [illegible] surprising that elections are in the [illegible] Vincent Club is also holding its annual meeting [illegible] at The Country Club Thursday [illegible] Mrs. Henry McElroy Parker who has most capably [illegible] two years may decide to follow [illegible] presidents and not seek a third term.

If that proves to be the case [illegible] to who will get the job . . . Possibilities [illegible] Mrs. George F. Bemis, Julia Barbour and Mrs. James [illegible] vice-presidents, Charlotte Rantoul, [illegible] and Mrs. George H. Crocker, all members [illegible] group . . .

Take your pick . . . We have our [illegible] any difference for we'll bet the members [illegible] already have their hands made up!

Returns for Sister's Wedding

MRS. CHAUNCEY KEEP HUTCHINS [illegible] Polly Wardwell, has arrived from Chicago to [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Wardwell of Brookline, and [illegible] pre-wedding festivities preceding the wedding of her sister, Miss Ann Parker Wardwell, to James Simonds . . . The wedding will [illegible] from today in Leslie Lindsay Memorial Chapel.

Polly and her younger sister, Ann Wardwell [illegible] as matron of honor and flower girl respectively at the [illegible] wedding party . . . William Simonds will perform [illegible] ushers will be Otis Wardwell 2d, and Chauncey [illegible] Following a wedding trip to Bermuda Mr. [illegible] will live in Brookline . . .

MANY FOREHANDED music lovers [illegible] already subscribed to next season's series of concerts which Artur Rodzinski will present in Boston . . . Recent subscribers for these [illegible] events, which will include the only Boston [illegible] by the celebrated artists is Sergei Rachmaninoff, Kirsten Flagstad and Fritz Kreisler, are Mrs. William Amory, Miss Helen Amory, Mrs. Louis Frothingham, Mrs. Joseph Lee, and Miss Marjorie Meier [illegible].

Courtesy Tip

By MRS. BEECKMAN

I am constantly surprised at the number of people otherwise kind and thoughtful who hang up the telephone receiver without saying "good-by." It takes half a second to say "good-by" and thereby finish the telephone conversation politely. To hear an unexpected click in one's ear as the telephone is hung up at the other end of the wire without the courtesy of a good-by is neither pleasant nor necessary.

Kirstein Heads Retailers Forum

The Food Industries National Forum, will be held at Wash... September, May 22 and 23 under the sponsorship of the American Retail Federation. And to a Bostonian falls the honor of serving as the general chairman of the entire forum, who will have the pleasure of attending President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a radio chat underwriter.

Lewis E. Kirstein, vice president of Wm. Filene's Sons Co., retail department store chain of Boston, is chairman of the Executive Board of the American Retail Federation, which will preside at the meeting May 22. Yesterday, Mr. Kirstein announced the Luncheon to be an all-day forum instead of one session, as originally planned. Speakers will include leaders in the retail industry, representatives of the Government and others.

In addition to Mr. Roosevelt's part in this distribution program, another New Deal leader of cabinet rank is expected to join with the President. Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Republican floor leader of the House, will sponsor the forum's interesting subject of "Business Looks Forward."

He will appear before the luncheon gathering, Mr. Roosevelt after lunch.

INDIVIDUAL . . . Subscribing members to the Federation located in Boston are C. F. Hovey Co., Jordan Marsh Co., and Wm. Filene's Sons Co. These stores are represented at the forum together with a large delegation of merchants . . . Which Daniel Bloomfield, secretary of the Massachusetts Council of Retail Merchants is arranging . . . Word from the Federation's Washington headquarters is that Mr. Bloomfield is extending cabin fever assistance and cooperation to the out-of-town visitors . . . Incidentally, this is a good place to make a note of the invitation extended to him by the International Chamber of Commerce to speak at the Copenhagen meeting in June . . . If the trip doesn't look too attractive, we suggest that you . . .

Sox Invalids Provide Punch

DETROIT, May 5 — It was springtime in Detroit's empty baseball acres. Not the wintry backdraft which passes for New England's seasonal awakening. But spring with breath of gardenias soft as a baby's kiss and a vernal opiate which clouds the senses.

AUSTEN LAKE

Spring crept up from the grass roots into the Red Sox veins and made them giddy with power.

I mean that a syrupy warmth poured from a cloudless sky so that smoke spirals from the distant auto factories were motionless plumes, like smudges from a printer's thumb, and the roofs of Detroit's close-built, herringbone houses beyond the outfield walls were hung with week's washing limp in a breathless air.

Amid such sweet profusion two Red Sox invalids returned to sudden health and scored all seven runs to win the ball game. Yes! Joseph Aloysius Cronin, the genial dean of Yawkey University, and Theodore Leffing-well Williams, the Cum Laude freshman outfielder, shook off a severe congestion of the jiblets, dried their snivels and biffed the ball for dear old Boston.

It was a selfless example of varsity spirit for before the contest both noses were running rivulets their eyes were like those of fresh caught haddock and their fevered cheeks looked as though they had been scuffed with sandpaper.

But Ted Williams did a very neat tied the ball game and Ted Cronin broke matters with two stupendious homers if that is not too crude a word for the prosaic licks which (1) bounced off the gravel roof of the right field stands and (2) cleared the superstructure 120 feet to the ground where the surface sign read "325 ft."

The last one would have made a creditable tee shot in the National Open. The one and original Babe Ruth never hit a ball with more might.

RICH OPPOSES TIGERS; WILLIAMS DAY'S HERO

DETROIT, May 5.—Young Teddy Williams, Red Sox wunderkind, was the only fans by the stars

by Jr. for a 10 lead. He was taken out in the third and Denny Galehouse lasted till the seventh when with the Sox leading, 7 to 6, and two men on and only one out, Heving entered the picture and hurled shutout ball, giving only one hit into the finish.

FANS GREENBERG

Heving had his troubles in the eighth when Rogers Mayo came up with the bases full of Tigers and Pete Fox perched on third. A fly ball to Williams would have scored Fox with the tying run, but Heving was equal to the occasion, striking out the batter with a wild pitch.

Inebriated Fan Leads Cheering

Still as the game wore on with Cronin looking under the soiled towels and rubbish in his dugout for new pitchers to send in, the Tigers were never more than a short stride away. And when, in the eighth, Barney McCosky led off with a single the few thousand Detroit's fans who had looked very lonely in their great, green crater, began to pour out an amplified volume of noise which made their minority seem legion.

Joe Heving Proves Valuable

The office bosses think that maybe Herbie penetrating eye will uncover some kid hurlers to pin back opposing batters' ears.

Young Jim Bagby began the game and was followed by Old Denny Galehouse. The only stirring thing about Young Jim's interval was the way he stretched his legs in the first inning and multiplied a one base error by three.

I have never seen a man get so much out of his feet as James did and he arrived in a spray of dust, plowing a furrow the last 20 feet with the end of his spine.

Johnstown Shortest Priced Favorite Since 1905

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

Nick Wall Is Lucky Jockey ⋮ East Boston Boy On El Chico

WHEN THE DERBY horses parade postward at Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon with the bands first playing "My Old Kentucky Home" and then "The Star Spangled Banner," there will be an East Boston boy with a leg up on El Chico, and his heart beating fast as he looks forward to winning the great classic.

Nick Wall is the jockey who was born in East Boston, and who as a result has thousands of supporters in this section of the country.

The plane cannot get started too soon for me," replied Wall. I think I can win with stage hand."

"Who do you wish as jockey on Seabiscuit," Sande asked Howard.

"How will you like to fly to the Coast and ride Stagehand in the Santa Anita handicap?" asked Howard.

Won With Menow in Massachusetts Race

I think Menow will go good in this stiff going," Wall said to the trainer. I feel lucky to-day, and maybe we'll beat War Admiral."

It was a thrill to win such a big race and also to gain my triumph in my old home town, declared Wall following the race.

I consider Wall one of the best jockeys in the country," Bavard once told me.

Mud Would Help Technician, Challedon

Johnstown is the logical favorite but he still has a lot to do. No Derby has ever been won by a recent story of Brevity and Red Venture. The experts didn't think Brevity could lose while Red Venture almost passed unnoticed. Yet when the race was over it was Red Venture who paraded into the winners circle as the crowd cheered.

The percentage boys will be at Churchill Downs tomorrow afternoon dropping thousands of dollars into the show hole on Johnstown. This will be satisfied with a 10 per cent return on their money. A profit of $100 on a $100 wager can take care of at least a few night club bills in Louisville on Derby night.

Track Must Be Fast For Johnstown To Win--Meade

This is the sixth article in Don Meade's remarkable series on racing and on himself. Don takes a little time out to give you the winner of the Kentucky Derby. Continue Meade's story today.

By DON MEADE

(As told to Dave Wilson and Jack Conway

Copyright, 1939, by Boston Evening American, Inc., and Don Meade

I am going to interrupt the story of my own career long enough to give you my Kentucky Derby selections.

If the track is fast, Johnstown is a cinch to win. I believe Johnstown has more speed than any horse in the world. He is amazing getting away from the barrier, and once in front he is in a class by himself.

DON MEADE AND HIS WIFE JO ANN

Johnstown, however, must have a fast track if he is to win.

In the event of a muddy track, I like Challedon to win, with Johnstown second.

Challedon will run second to Johnstown if the track is fast.

On a fast or slow track it is strictly a race between Johnstown and Challedon. These two horses appear to have more class than any of the other thoroughbreds in the field.

PICKS DORSETT FOR THIRD

I believe T. M. Dorsett, if a starter, will finish third.

I'll permit the remainder of the field to fight it out. I won't make any prediction as to where any of them will finish.

I would love to be up on one of the Derby horses and win as I did with Broker's Tip in the 1933 Kentucky Derby.

You may be sure I'll be listening in for the result of the Derby classic from Narragansett Park. I shall be at the Pawtucket track to ride Early Delivery for George Odom in the $5000 added Bristol Handicap.

I was up on Early Delivery in the Spring Handicap at Narragansett Park. That was the race that was won by Be Blue. Early Delivery finished third. I am hopeful that Early Delivery will win tomorrow.

Returning to the story of my own career, the winter of 1936 again found me in Florida riding for Colonel Bradley's stable. Once more I was up on many famous stake horses and gained my share of victories.

STUDIED FORM SHEETS

As I revealed in my opening article, I used to study the form sheets the night before the races and try to grade the horses. In my personal handicaps, I frequently rated other horses above the mount I was to ride. I then tried to figure out a way to beat what looked like the top horse.

Unfortunately I like to bet, and often wagered on the horses I had handicapped to win even though I was riding another horse in the same race. When this became known, I was suspended by the Florida Racing Commission.

Nobody ever accused me of pulling a horse or "fixing" a race, and I never did. I always rode to win, and on numerous occasions I beat the horse I had bet on.

I never made money betting on races. Like most other persons who visit race tracks, I was wrong in my selections much more often than I was right.

My suspension of almost three years was a costly one. It prevented me from riding in big stakes during a period when racing flourished. As I would have received 10 per cent of all stakes that I won, I figure that my suspension cost me $150,000.

LOST COURAGE

I cannot measure the price in heartaches.

The hearings before the Florida Racing Commission brought me grief. As I was repeatedly denied reinstatement, I lost courage. I became convinced that I would never be permitted to ride again.

The fear that I would never get back on the track almost broke my heart.

Jo Ann, my wife, was loyal through my trouble. She was always certain I would eventually win out.

That is why after my eighth attempt to gain reinstatement ended in failure I tried for the ninth time when Jo Ann told me she knew that justice would require that the decision be in my favor. So I went before the Florida Racing Commission for the ninth time, and Joe Ann and I were the happiest persons in the world when the decision reinstated me as a jockey.

RIDING TO WIN

Since being reinstated, I have ridden with great success. In Florida, at Narragansett Park and in New York I have taken part in important races.

I have been riding to win, as I always did, and I have been happy that the cheers for me have outnumbered the boos.

When Don Meade's riding career ends, what then? Meade himself gives the answer in the final article of his series in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.

DAVE WILSON PICKS JOHNSTOWN

By DAVE WILSON

Johnstown, the superhorse from the barn of Sunny Jimmy Fitzsimmons, is my choice to win the Kentucky Derby.

This great race horse, winner of his three starts as a three-year-old, stands out by far over his field in the great spectacle Col. Matt Winn stages at Louisville tomorrow.

His chief rival in my book, and a serious menace to his success in the event it comes up mud, is Challedon, that son of Challenger, 2nd, which Lou Schaeffer trains for W. L. Brann.

As recently as Saturday last Johnstone demonstrated unquestioned superiority when he came from behind to win as he pleased in the Wood Memorial. And he had no particularly soft field to beat in this event.

Challedon, though beaten at Havre De Grace, was by no means disgraced and still stands right near the top in my book.

BRED FOR MUD

Up to the present time Johnstown has never been asked to display his wares over an off track. But despite that fact he should be able to mud it, for he's a half-brother to Jacola, a mud-running mare of more than ordinary merit, and his pappy, Jamestown, was as fine a muddier as one would ask for.

With this thought in mind I place the only possible doubt upon the ability of my top choice to score over his field here.

On a dry, fast track I rate Technician and T. M. Dorsett back of Johnstown and Challedon in that order. And if the goo be there and the race does become close, Challedon might win by a short measure of distance over Johnstown, with the others finishing in the same order.

Johnstown's preparations for the Derby have been made in and around New York and, what with that sensational mile and 70 yards in close to world's record time and the Wood Memorial following it, his condition seems perfect.

Fitzsimmons sent the horse to Louisville several days in advance and gave him easy works to prepare for the great test.

CHALLEDON FIT

I saw Challedon in Maryland on my way North this spring and know that this great horse which Lou Schaeffer nursed through a wonderful year as a juvenile is as fit as human hands can make him.

His effort in the Derby should be wonderful and a fitting tribute to Schaeffer whose friends in New England are a legion.

Technician is the hope of the West in the Kentucky classic. Herbert M. Woolf of Kansas City believes this son of Inseo will duplicate the performance of Lawrin and score in this year's classic.

This one raced brilliantly in Florida, but in my opinion is not quite the equal of my top two.

T. M. Dorsett, which I give an outside chance, has trained and raced well and should give a good account of himself throughout the entire distance.

The balance of the field hardly class with those mentioned specifically, but as is ever the case in a classic most anything can happen and accidents could result in the foregoing predictions being entirely wrong.

However I stand on

Johnstown,
Challedon,
Technician

And T. M. Dorsett to finish as named on a dry track. In case of mud, Challedon, Johnstown, Technician and T. M. Dorsett.

Books Stand to Lose Million If Johnstown Wins Derby

The old axiom that the bookmaker has all the best of it over the bettors, may prove false tomorrow should William Woodward's sensational Johnstown account for the Kentucky Derby, for the son Jamestown is almost positive to be the public's choice to cop the Blue Grass classic.

Furthermore, the "bookies" stand to lose somewhere in the vicinity of $1,000,000 should the big bay take top honors, as he was quoted in the wintry book at odds fluctuating from 20 to 1 to 10 to 1 and plenty of takers so that at the present big time bookmakers are unable to balance their books accordingly.

The only thing that might make them breathe a little easier is the fact that the Churchill Downs strip may be muddy.

Late weather reports from Kentucky this morning predict that the Derby will be run over a wet strip with showers all through the day.

So don't weep for the bookies yet, they usually all finish in front.

Joe DiMaggio Quits Hospital

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, Yankee outfield star, who injured a leg in a game last week, left the hospital today predicting he will be back in the lineup "in two weeks at the most."

"Don't count Lou Gehrig out because he is taking his first rest in years," said DiMaggio.

"It's the best thing that could have happened to him. There's plenty of baseball left in that fellow."

Miller Adds New Sting to Bees!

Veteran Cuccinello scores an assist for helping Rookie Miller complete a "Breakfast of Champions" double play—nourishment and flavor. On the field, Tony and Eddie are as smooth a combination as Wheaties, with milk or cream, and some fruit.

When the game goes into extra innings, ball stars can use the extra good nourishment of a "Breakfast of Champions." Minerals, proteins, vitamins, and abundant food-energy—they're yours in this complete, hearty meal. Buy Wheaties, a product of General Mills, Inc., today!

Wheaties and advertising claims for them are accepted by the Council on Foods of the American Medical Association.

With Baseball's 100th Anniversary season just barely launched, smart judges of playing talent are already nudging each other over Eddie Miller's sensational shortstopping for your Bees.

This 22-year-old phenom has been giving the Swarm added sting to back up the staff's excellent pitching.

With Elbie Fletcher at first, Tony Cuccinello at second, Debs Garms at third, Eddie has lost no time in making the Bees' infield 100% Wheaties-eating. Modest about his ball playing ability, Miller is no blushing violet about his favorite breakfast cereal. "When I start spooning up Wheaties, I really do a job of it!" he enthuses.

Remember, be they rookies or vets, hundreds of major leaguers rate Wheaties, with plenty of milk or cream, and fruit, their No. 1 "Breakfast of Champions!" Have you tried Wheaties? Buy several packages today!

When Eddie hits 'em, they ride. This one is over the fence and far away. And the umpire puts another ball in play! Come out to National League Field and watch your favorite Wheaties-eating Bees perform!

CODE IN SUNDAY ADVERTISER

GREYHOUNDS' FORM ON FLORIDA OVALS

The Boston Evening American presents the 11th in a series of winter form of greyhounds which have raced in Florida this past season and which are booked for Wonderland Park, Revere, starting June 1.

This information will provide for racing fans the last performances of the Wonderland entries at the leading Florida tracks. They can be clipped and saved for reference and used during the coming season at the beach track.

The series, appearing also in the Sunday Advertiser, will cover approximately 350 greyhounds, including many of last year's champions, most all of the recent Florida derby winners and runners-up, and scores of promising youngsters.

These lists will make a valuable volume for close followers of the sport.

Harvard Rugby Team To Play Hub Club

The Yale rugby team will not be here today to meet Harvard, but the Crimson will play the Boston Rugby Club at Soldiers Field at 2:30. "Pepper" Constable, former Princeton football star, is slated to do his stuff for Boston, and a former captain of the Yale "rugger" team, J. Towle, will also make things miserable for the Harvard boys.

Joe Clancy draws fire

TO POP OFF JOE CLANCY

You remind me of Art Shires
Surely you must know Arthur the Great
You and he ought to get together
Some rainy day and talk things over
Boy! What a pair you'd make.

By this time next month I predict that you and the Bees will be so low that you won't be able to put your hands in your pockets to get you handkerchief to wipe the mist from your eyes.

I not only challenge you, but I defy you to match your baseball knowledge with mine. Pick out any team or any subject in the line of baseball. I'll let the editor be the judge. What do you say, Pop Off Clancy?

MYSTIC FAN.

Editor's Note—I'll hold the coats of Joe Clancy and Mystic Fan while they punch it out in a baseball quiz.

Boost for Joe Cronin

WHY DO SOME fans persist in saying Joe Cronin shouldn't be manager and player at the same time?

Instead of knocking Joe, the fans should be proud that Boston has the only playing manager outside of Brooklyn and Chicago.

Give Cronin a break. He has taken over a group of prima donnas and has made a fighting team of them.

As for Joe Clancy, he is a loud-mouthed publicity bound. See how big he talks in September. I suggest that he write Bob Quinn and tell him to get his application in early for Lou Gehrig and other American League castoffs before Brooklyn does.

Rooting for Bees

The Bees' string of wins at the Bee Hive had to end some time, but that defeat Tuesday was certainly a heart-breaker.

When Cooney singled to start the eighth with the score tied, and looking for a sacrifice from Max West, but instead was ordered to try to place-hit a single to left, I knew then and there that the Bees ultimately were going down to defeat, as West, a .185 hitter, flied weakly to left.

"It just happened that Stengel's hunch went wrong, but nevertheless a ball game is a ball game, and with Simmons and Cuccinello coming to bat at this late stage of the game, and the possibility of that run probably would have taken the heart out of the Cards and the rookie hurler, Boe Bowman.

"The other play that went wrong, in my opinion, occurred in the ninth with the bases full and one out. With Terry Moore at bat, he barely caught a McFayden curve at the end of his bat and sent it into short left, where Simmons was coming in fast and Miller going out.

"I thought surely that Simmons, who usually is a fast-thinking ball player, would call for the ball, as he was close enough to catch it, and while on the run was in a good position to throw out his man. I believe Gonzales would not have sent his man in if Simmons would have caught the ball.

"Eddie Miller made a sparkling play on that ball, but that second in which he had to pivot to throw the ball was just enough for the winning run to score."

Well, let's take our hat off to Elden Leroy Auker for his splendid pitching performance against the Cleveland Indians. And as a matter of fact, he started everything by helping himself with a couple of base hits.

Auker is going to be a great pennant factor on the hill for the Red Sox this season. And all you baseball fans who think he's the season's flop, just get the idea out of your mind right away. I think he's a great pitcher and he is going to have a successful season, with all the support of you splendid New England fans.

Yesterday's Heroes

RED SOX

Teddy Williams, two homers and five runs batted in.

PITCHER

Joe Heving, shut-out relief performance.

BEES

No game yesterday.

A point will be awarded each time a player is named in "Yesterday's Heroes," and the weekly standing will be published each Monday. Regular players on both the Bees and Red Sox and pitchers of both clubs who top the ratings at the end of the season will each receive a handsome Gruen Precision Veri-Thin Moderne 17-jewel wrist watch.

Every Howard Wearer is a

VALUE-SHARER

Nearly two million men buy Howard Clothes again and again. This is conclusive proof that men are interested in wearing just the kind of clothes we are interested in making.

10 Weeks to pay if you prefer that way

It's easy for every responsible man to open a Howard 10 payment account. On this convenient plan you pay a little down and budget the balance in ten weekly, or five twice-monthly payments, and you pay the one and only Howard cash price plus a dollar service fee.

■ We, as manufacturers and retailers . . . selling our product direct to the wearer, are interested in producing clothes of absolute dependability. We realize the importance of style smartness. We have a conviction that economy, without sacrifice of quality, counts a great deal. We have a real respect for your confidence in us.

■ If you feel as we do, then you ought to come in and at least try on a Howard garment. We could tell you about the excellence of our all wool fabrics . . . about the tailoring . . . about our service . . . but after all what you find out for yourself is what actually counts. Come in, you'll learn what it means to be a sharer of maker to wearer economies.

Golly, It's a Circus!—When you're sick and lonely, and you look out of your window, and there's nothing but gray skies to see, you kinda choke up inside and wonder what's this thing called life, anyway. You can't help it. And then, wonder of wonders blue skies shine overhead one morning, nurses smile just a little bit brighter . . . and you remember, the circus is coming. And you forget your pains and aches . . . and grasp again a little tighter on that thing called life . . . thanks to the circus. Which was what happened today at Children's Hospital on Longwood avenue . . . with Leo McCarthy getting his biggest thrill when the elephant put up snout for a pat. Golly, it's a circus!
